Along with their grotesque appearance, trolls' natural strength in combat is so immense it is almost considered grotesque as well to the creature engaged against them. Hearsay tells us trolls physical regeneration is powerful enough to regrow mass tissue loss, organs, and even the occasional limb. While trolls mental strength is equivalent to that of a vegetable, their natural strength, resistance to physical damage, and unearthly racial attack power, makes them almost unstoppable in a vigor based battle. trolls are very deadly, but due to their insatiable appetite for battle, they require more training than most other races.
